Guest Post Guidelines for WorkersCompensation.com

We welcome guest contributions that provide thoughtful, relevant insights into the workers' compensation industry. Please review the following guidelines before submitting your article:

Content Requirements

- Industry Relevance: Posts must be clearly related to workers' compensation. We accept submissions from professionals in health care, insurance, and risk management, provided the content connects back to workers' comp.
- Originality: Content must be original, not previously published elsewhere. No AI-generated content without meaningful human editing.
- Tone: Professional, informative, and engaging. Avoid overly promotional or salesy content.
- Length: 600–1,200 words is preferred.
- Citations: Support statistics, legal references, or medical facts with credible sources, and include hyperlinks where appropriate.

Formatting & Style

- Use short paragraphs and subheadings for readability.
- Include a title and optional short summary (1–2 sentences).
- Avoid jargon when possible; explain technical terms for a broad professional audience.
- We reserve the right to edit for clarity, length, or style.

Author Info

- Include a short author bio (2–3 sentences), headshot (optional), and a link to your website or LinkedIn profile.
- Disclosure of any affiliations or potential conflicts of interest is required.

Submission Process

- Send your article in a Word document or Google Doc to fferreri@workerscompensation.com
- Our editorial team will review and respond within 7–10 business days.
